A good washing perks up anyone. Don't neglect the green leaves of your potted plants either. Wash gently with cool water at least once a week and watch their faces shine.

KILLMAN TELLS OF TRIP THROUGH COMMIE WATER

Sinbad the sailor and the Ancient mariner would have had a hard time keeping up with the team the past week. We went from Kinmen Island over to Little Kinmen which is just off the shore of Red China. To get to this island fortification we had to board a Chinese junk early in the morning to get over before the sun had a chance to show us up. After three meetings on this Island we boarded another Chinese sailing junk and came home under the cover of a heavy fog. I filmed much of the trip even with the rough sea and inclement weather. We feel that the apostle Paul had gone through much when he said he was "in perils of water." We had the same thing for the Communist ships were all around us. But we were sitting on a powder keg on top of the perils of water. It was amazing to watch these rugged Chinese sail this antiquated junk into the harbor.

ATTACKED BY INVADERS

One of the fellows on the team came rushing into the room and said, "Look at me." I looked only to see a mass of red spots. He was scratching as fast as he could. I thought of small pox or measles. Just then a doctor came in hearing the talk and said, "Let me look at your glands." He was on the Island for plague control which is prevalent during the next few months. We came to find out that the flea has really taken over and then we all started to itch and develop the same red spots. The doctor said he would come and spray our room but we never saw him any more.

MISTAKEN FOR GUERRILLAS

We were only three Americans to our knowledge on the Island until the people started to call us guerrillas. Then upon investigating further we came to find out that we had another American friend who was training guerrillas who went back and forth to the Mainland causing trouble during the night. Later on it was our privilege to speak to the camp where they were training these men. It was a thrill to speak to these men who were willing to risk their lives for our country. We spoke of another man who laid down His life for them. Many of them responded.

EXIT BLOCKED BY RED TAPE

We were trying to get off the Island on the next plane after we had spent a week there, but the Chinese officials said we should have a certain re-entry permit which we were never told about. After arguing with all the ranks from Lieutenant to General we convinced them that if they would get us on the next plane they would be cleared in Taipei. Then they told us there wouldn't be any planes coming in. About that time a truckload of people came in and said they had just come in with the two planes from Taipei. We told the Garrison officer to give us clearance and packed our luggage and boarded the plane. Landing in Taipei we were in the wrong but passed through the Garrison headquarters with someone signing for us.

Special College Tax Explained

The facilities of El Camino College can continue to expand at the rate of $800,000 per year if voters in the Junior College District vote the special tax being asked by the school.

The special tax of 25c per $100 of assessed valuation voted in 1947 expires this year. The College is asking the voters to pass an extended tax of 20c for a five year period to finance construction necessitated by the tremendous growth of the school.

Dr. Forrest Murdock, president of the college, revealed at a press luncheon last Thursday that the current enrollment of 4700 can be expected to reach 10,000 within a very few years.

The classrooms of the college have 100% occupancy both in day and evening division schools, it was disclosed.

Additional classrooms, library, physical science building, and an auditorium are slated for construction if voters pass the special tax.

The vote is scheduled for May 16.

"Wood rot" and "dry rot" are caused by a tiny fungus that feeds on the wood cells and fibers, eventually destroying the wood. Foundation lumber pressure treated with CZC wood preservative is protected against both termites and fungus attack.

135 Enroll in 'Y' Swim Class

"We have quite a few promising swimmers taking advantage of this week of free instruction," Dick Brown, secretary of the Local YMCA, said.

Torrance Falls Short of Quota

The American National Red Cross is facing a possible curtailment of its services because its local 1952 fund goal of $3,150,000 has not been met, according to Lester T. King, area fund chairman.

To date Torrance has collected $8,189.73, less than 80% of its quota. Residential subscriptions have topped their quota, but commercial, industrial, and professional subscriptions are still short, King said.

If the Red Cross is going to carry on with its full program, this city must go over the top of its local quota, King also said.
